

Volunteers Show Their City Pride

Fire Hydrant Project Nears Completion

A two-year fire hydrant painting project is nearly complete in Fridley. With brushes and yellow paint furnished by the City, more than 50 volunteers have painted nearly every fire hydrant in our city. The final five hydrants should be painted in the spring.

Bob Schroer of Bob's Produce Ranch spearheaded this painting project. George Dean was also very instrumental in motivating volunteers of all ages. Members of Fridley High School's cross-country team volunteered their time and talent while Graco

Company donated a paint sprayer to use on the hydrants. A special thanks to all of the volunteers! Not only will the efforts of these residents make fire hydrants more visible for public safety reasons, but they should also add to the curb appeal of our neighborhoods.
